

Free Bereavement service for Group Life policies

The death of a close relative, whether expected or unexpected, is a difficult time for family members, both practically and emotionally. As part of our built-in Unum LifeWorks Employee/Employer Assistance Programme (EAP), we provide a wide range of support services for spouses, partners and immediate family members when they need it most.

In addition to EAP being available to all our Group Income Protection customers, our Bereavement Service is also available to all our Group Life policyholders and their dependants. The service includes:

- financial information, including debt support services
- assistance with finding local, reputable childcare
- special bereavement pack
- health & wellbeing information and support

It also offers access to the LifeWorks Critical Incident Support Service following a death in the workplace. This is available to employers on a fee for service basis and provides practical advice on how best to support employees and help them through the grieving process.

Full details of our Bereavement Service and how the employer and the employee's dependants can access support are included with our claim form.
