

CIGNA Dental Plans

Product Information

Dentistry is an important, but increasingly expensive part of everyone's healthcare. Access to NHS dentistry is diminishing as dentists convert to private practice. It is no surprise that employees are looking to employers to provide them with dental cover that will allow them to access quality dental care.

At Health Matters we understand the importance of providing benefits that meet and exceed employee expectations. That is why we have searched the market on your behalf and identified a solution from a quality provider that will meet your dental employee benefit needs. CIGNA HealthCare is one of the largest global health insurers and covers 10 million dental lives worldwide.

CIGNA understands the need for employers to balance benefit costs versus cover – and for this reason they offer a choice of dental plans to suit different requirements. The simple plan designs, comprehensive cover and efficient claims service all combine to deliver employee satisfaction.

If you include a dental plan in your benefits package, your employees can have access to the high quality dental treatment they desire.
